AMUSEMENTS

SALT LAKE THEATER-Fourth con-cert of the Salt Lake Symphony Or-chestra, Arthur Shepherd, director.

chestra, Arthur Shepherd, director.

Was the Theater packed last night? Was the house so crowded that even stage space was needed for eager men? Was the lower floor filled, even to the doors? Was there rude jostling to reach coveted places in the gallery? No, of course not. What ridiculous questions! What was there to attract a throng? Nothing but good music. Sait Lakers love good music, but they are not so crazy for it yet that they rush in crowds to the Theater when it is to be given. Some day polleemen and deputy sheriffs and all kinds of officials may seek by various pretexts to gain free admission to a Symphony concert. Some day, perhaps, the City Council may adjourn and its members march in a body to hear our orchestra play overtures and symphonies, and try to understand them. Some day, indeed, religious men may go and take their sons. But we have not yet reached the state of high development that all these things would indicate. And so if any gentleman who was at the Theater Monday night was there again last night he could readily see a striking difference. And yot the Symphony orchestra has reason to be hopeful at the close of the season. It has advanced artistically. It last given much pleasure. And nearly half of those who promised to attend its concerts have done so. Its members and its promoters, who have worked hard, are entitled to the satisface.

nembers and its promoters, who have worked hard, are entitled to the satisfacmembers and its promoters, who have worked hard, are entitled to the satisfaction of knowing that their educational work has had effect, and we understand that they contemplate another season with a feeling of encouragement.

The programme last night, as a whole, was not the most popular of the series. But it opened with a delightful Suppe overture, "Pione Dame," and the Haydn Symphony which followed was admirably done, and altogether pleasing. A Strauss waitz gave desirable liveliness to offset the sober music of a selection from Handel and Massenet's "Angelus." The "Lucia" sextette and the overture from Wober's "Euryanthe" were other features of the orchestral programme.

Two talented daughtors of Salt Lake were instrumental soloists. Mrs. Catherine Trumbo McGurrin played a harp selection, "im Fruhlirs," by Edward Schuecker. Mrs. McGurrin plays with rare skill, and seldom indeed have professional performers on the harp given greater pleasure here than she did to those who heard her enjoyable performance. Mrs. McGurrin played with the orchestra in the rendering of the Handel selection. Miss Geneve Ellerbeck played brilliantly a Chaminade "Concertatuck" with the orchestra. Her performance was a notable one, revealing the possession of excep-

MOTHER IS DEAD, SAID THE BOY

So Is Mine, Said Judge Willis Brown.

Then Lad and Court and the Spectators Wiped Away Tears.

Court When Young Offender Stood Up.

People who have cause for frequent attendance in courts soon become hardened to features and incidents that seem pa-thetic to others. But those in the Jave-nile court often withness scenes that touch the hearts of those most accustomed to pathetic incidents.

Sympathy for Children. One of these occurred yesterday that caused the hearts of all present to go out to Judge Willis Brown, as well as to a young offender he was questioning. It also found an answer to the question people have asked "How does Willis Brown get his influence over the young ones" In the words of one of those present. "His sympathy and the whole-hearted humanity that is evident to the youngest child, account for it all. He understands exactly the motives that prompt the young minds,"

City Recorder Critchlow, Clerk Walter Sloan and a deputy sheriff were present besides a number of people who, were in the court on business. The lad, a bright, open-faced youngster, was charged with truancy and incorrigibility.

"We're Going to Be Friends."

"We're Going to Be Friends."

"I like you,' were the first words the Judge said to him. "Do you know why?" "No, sir," was the answer "Because you look me straight in the cye,' said the Judge. "You're not really bad. We're going to be great friends, you and I." and 1."
Judge Brown then brought out the fact that the boy stayed at home from school because he had to cook and mind the

"Is your mother sick?" he asked. The little fellow gulped once. Mother Is Dead. "She's she's dead," he almost whispered in a husky voice.
"So's mine," said Judge Brown then, amid a dead silence. Not a sound could be heard in court. Everyhody seemed to feel the bond of kinship, the bond of sortew that had suddenly spring up between the boy and the man. There was not a woman present who did not use her hand-kerchief, nor a man whose throat did not swell with a sympathy that was hard to control.

"It's tough, isn't it?" added the Judge after a pause. The little fellow nodded, blinking hard to keep the tears down. Talked to Boy's Father.

In talking to the boy's father.

In talking to the boy's father afterward Judge Brown said: "Don't you whip that boy any more He's not the sort of boy you can do anything with by licking." "He only gets whipped when he tells lies," urged the father. "Whipping doesn't stop boys lying," delared the Judge emphatically. "It makes them liars."

Boy Hed New Prices.

Boy Had New Friend. The boy went out of the court feeling that he had a new friend, and that he had a different life before him. He promised to go to school and went out, after a hearty hand clasp with his head in the air.

Had a Press Dec

Had a Busy Day.

Some very hard work was accomplished by the court yesterday. Judge Brown and Probationary Officer Woods were kept busy from 7 o'clock in the morning, and did not adjourn court until 7 o'clock at night, without intervals for meals. They had the help of Deputy Sheriff Booth and Patroliman Sperry. Fourteen were handled altogether, and a great many other summonses served.

Give Charged With Trusney

Girls Charged With Truancy. Two young girls, who were charged with truancy and incorrigibility, occupied the court's time for over two hours. The case is a very sad one, the girls being only 12 and 14 years old. They were released on probation. Mrs. H. I. Young was appointed a probationary officer of the court, with especial care over these girls. Sidney Hamberger was also appointed a probationary officer.

Sold Children Tobacco.

Two people were fined for selling to-bacco to children. They paid the fine, declaring firmly their intention to keep away from this offense. The woman who was charged with encouraging a runaway girl was sentenced to imprison-ment, but sentence was suspended on pro-bation. The woman has two young children. It was found that she harbored a child who had run away from her pa-rents, knowing what she had done.

tional gifts, and stirred the audience to the warmest demonstration of the evening. Hugh Dougall was very pleasing in a Massenet aria, "Vision Fugitive," and responded to applause with "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes."

Squire Coop has been very helpful through the season with his analytical notes printed conveniently in the programme, thus advancing the orchestra's work of education. Many are thankful to Prof. Coop for his explanations. But is he always as clear as he might be? For instance, in last night's programme he said, referring to a selection. "The work is modern throughout, and makes demands on the performer's sense of rubato-rhythm, and the feeling for the brayura."

But we could not see any one feeling for the brayura.

The sale of seats for the bigh school's burlesque, "Macbeth," to be given at the Sait Lake Theatre next Friday night, opened yesterday, and the management reports the sale of nearly 700 tickets. This looks very promising for the cadets and their encampment fund.

The seat sale for the engagement of Lionel Barrymore in "The Other Girl" will open at the Salt Lake Theatre tomorrow morning. The engagement opens next Monday night.

The Mack Swain Theatre company will open an engagement at the Grand next Monday. The plays for the first week will be "California" and "East Lynne."

T. Daniel Frawley will star under Henry H. Harris, in "Rameon's Folly," Robert Edeson's success of last season, and will make a tour of the West this Lionel Barrymore. Lionel Barrymore.

Tomorrow morning commences the sale of seats for the engagement of Lionel Barrymore in Augustus Thomas's great comedy, "The Other Girl." Barrymore comes here under the management of Charles Frohman, who also controls the management of Lionel's sister, Ethel, who is such a favorite in Salt Lake. "The Other Girl" with Barrymore proved one of the greatest laughing successes seen in New York last season, where it played the entire year. The engagement is for the first three nights of noxt week, with matinee Wednesday.

Thousands of Women ARE MADE WELL AND STRONG

Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Rests Upon the Fact that It Really Does Make Sick Women Well

Thousands upon thousands of American women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office, and prove this statement to be a fact and not a mere Overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine, and compared with it all other medicines and treatment for women are experiments.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished its widespread results for good? Why has it lived and thrived and done its glorious work for a quarter of a century?

Simply and surely because of its ster-ling worth. The reason no other med-Pathetic Scene Occurs in the Juvenile list no other medicine in the world so good for women's ills. The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womankind is not because it is a stimulant-not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructor ever discovered to act directly upon the uterine system, positively CURING disease and displacements and restoring health and vigor. Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures, and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-pound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due. If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it will effect a cure. Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhœa, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous pros-tration, or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Anyway, write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. for advice. It's free and always helpful.
